Big Steps for Little Feet

Kindergarten students across the district took part in orientation programs this week to prepare them for the big step into kindergarten.

Included in the events were bus orientation programs to let students ride the big yellow bus for the first time with a family member or caregiver by their side. The MHS Class of 2032 will be entering kindergarten this fall.

Focus on School Safety

School administrators held their annual back-to-school Safety Committee meeting to discuss district protocols, partnerships, and plans. The team includes Mooreville Schools officers (all off-duty local police officers); members of local law enforcement, fire and EMS departments; and representatives from Franciscan Health, the Morgan County prosecutor's office, and school personnel representing several departments.

The group discussed safety protocols as well as information about the district's use of security cameras on all campuses and the visitor check-in systems. All school visitors must present a government-issued photo ID before entering a school building. That person's ID is cross-checked with databases listing offenders who should not be on school campuses or should not be in proximity of certain building occupants.

Group members noted how important it is for all families to keep their contact information as well as the names of designated emergency contacts up to date in Skyward in case of a school evacuation scenario.

Helping Students in Need

Mooreville Schools families in need of assistance with school supplies should come to MHS this Saturday, July 27, from 9am to noon to pick up supplies for their child. Children are encouraged to attend so they may pick out a book, backpack, and shoes. Information about free/ reduced meals, family services, Skyward, Adult & Child Health, and other school programs will also be available. This event is only for students registered at Mooreville Schools. Those who are not yet registered for school should bring ID to begin the enrollment process.
